Who am I in the Lives of Children? An Introduction to Early Childhood Education

By Stephanie Feeney, Eva Moravcik, Sherry Nolte

Pearson Education (US), United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 10th Revised edition. 254 x 201 mm. Language: English. Brand New Book. Note: This is the bound book only and does not include access to the Enhanced Pearson eText. To order the Enhanced Pearson eText packaged with a bound book, use ISBN 0134057244. A warm and comprehensive child-centered approach to early childhood education Who Am I in the Lives of Children? An Introduction to Early Childhood Education presents a constructivist approach to early childhood education (birth to grade 3) and care programs that is dedicated to the development of the whole child—physical, social, emotional, and intellectual. With its practical orientation; personal voice; appealing photographs, videos, authentic children’s classroom work; and engaging stories, it allows readers to visualize effective classroom practices. Aspiring educators are encouraged to learn about each child’s strengths, interests, and challenges. This understanding, coupled with contemporary, research-based information, inspires readers to support each child’s growth and learning in ways that are in harmony with who they are, rather than according to a predetermined plan. The Enhanced Pearson eText features embedded video and assessments. Improve mastery and retention with the Enhanced Pearson eText* The Enhanced...

READ ONLINE
[ 7.49 MB ]

Reviews

This is an amazing publication i actually have at any time go through. It is actually rally interesting throug reading through period. Its been developed in an exceptionally straightforward way which is merely following i finished reading through this publication where actually altered me, modify the way in my opinion.
-- Noah Padberg

This written book is fantastic. This can be for those who state that there had not been a well worth reading. Your life period will probably be transform when you comprehensive reading this article ebook.
-- Chanelle Roob
An Introduction to Early Childhood Education presents a constructivist approach to early childhood education (birth to grade 3) and care programs that is dedicated to the development of the whole child—physical, social, emotional, and intellectual. With its practical orientation; personal voice; appealing photographs, videos, authentic children’s classroom work; and engaging stories, it allows readers to visualize effective classroom practices. Produced in December 2014 by Pearson, this release of Who Am I In The Lives Of Children? by Stephanie Feeney, Eva Moravcik and Sherry Nolte gives 640 pages of quality information. Encompassing thorough Education subjects, the author of Who Am I in the Lives of Children?
Taking a child-centered approach and focusing on values and ethics, the authors present the foundation and the tools that pre-service teachers need to become the kind of teacher that can make a difference in a child's life. The book offers the following pedagogical tools to help accomplish this goal: “Reflection Boxes”—encourage reflective thinking. “Learning Outcomes”—relate to the NAEYC standard for the content covered in each chapter. “To Learn More”—This section includes suggestions for projects to help students learn more about the content in the chapter. At the age of three, the children who had been involved in the “Missouri” programme were evaluated alongside a cross-section of children selected from the same range of socio-economic backgrounds and family situations, and also a random sample of children that age. The results were phenomenal. Their focus is on getting children and mothers access to childcare and institutionalised early childhood education. Education from the age of three to five is undoubtedly vital, but without a similar focus on parent education and on the vital importance of the first three years, some evidence indicates that it will not be enough to overcome educational inequity. For the introduction to early childhood education course in two- and four-year colleges. This package includes the Revel access card. A warm and comprehensive child-centered approach to early childhood education. Who Am I in the Lives of Children? An Introduction to Early Childhood Education reflects a practical, constructivist approach to early childhood education (birth to grade 3) and care programs that is dedicated to the development of the whole child—physical, social, emotional, and intellectual. TestGen Computerized Test Bank for Who Am I in the Lives of Children? An Introduction to Early Childhood Education, 11th Edition.